stalking or
human trafficking
a way to keep their residential addresses
confidential.

ROY COOPER
Attorney General
State of North Carolina

As Attorney General, I've made fighting domestic violence, sexual assault, stalking and human trafficking a priority. We've worked hard to enact tougher laws for abusers who commit these crimes and we've also worked to protect the rights of victims.

As part of these efforts, we created the Address Confidentiality Program (ACP) to help victims who've moved away from their abuser keep their address confidential. Even after they've taken the initial steps to escape a dangerous situation, many survivors of abuse continue to live in fear.

The ACP is an important way to protect survivors and the families, and give them the peace of mind they need to move on with their lives.

Together, our efforts to protect victims of domestic violence, sexual assault, stalking and human trafficking will make North Carolina safer for all of us.

IF YOU ARE:

a victim of domestic violence,
sexual assault, stalking or human trafficking and you live in a location unknown to your abuser or stalker, and you are concerned for the safety of yourself and your family . . .

you may be eligible to participate in North Carolina's

ADDRESS
CONFIDENTIALITY
PROGRAM
(ACP)

An ACP participant is provided with a substitute address and a mail-forwarding service.

The substitute address is the address of public record which can be used for state and local government services, such as obtaining a North Carolina driver's license.

The mail forwarding service receives mail
at the substitute address then forwards it to the program participant's designated mailing address.

ACP keeps the program participant's information confidential. There are no fees for applying or participating in the ACP.

WHAT THE ACP CAN DO FOR VICTIMS:

- ❖ Provide an additional layer of protection to increase overall safety.
- ❖ Provide a confidential address service to victims and their families regardless of where they live in North Carolina or how many times they move within the state.
- ❖ Provide a cost-free mail forwarding service.
- ❖ Provide an ACP Authorization Card that can be presented when an address is required.

THE ACP CANNOT:

- ❖ Keep the address of a victim who owns real property (house or land) in her/his name out of the public records.
- ❖ Require that private companies accept the ACP substitute address.
Note: Many private companies do accept the substitute address although they are not required to do so by law.
- ❖ Provide legal advice or counseling services.
- ❖ Help a victim get a new name or social security number.
- ❖ Be a victim's only safety plan.
The ACP is only one part of a participant's overall safety strategy.

The ACP is a free
program
administered by the North Carolina
Attorney General's Office.
